SKILLS PROFILE

Communication

Developed strong written and verbal communication skills undertaking assignments, delivering presentations and working in group projects.

Organisation and Time Management

As a student and working part time, time management is essential in order to deliver assignments and projects undertaken during the course that meet all necessary requirements. Successfully balanced academic and work/family commitments.

Negotiation and Advocacy

As a student at the University of Bolton, in my second year I regularly attended staff/student committee meetings. This involved liaising with students, identifying issues and presenting these in a positive and professional manner.

Team work

Have worked in a variety of teams both with work and also whilst at university. Fully understand the benefits of effective team work in ensuring targets are achieved and goals are met. Have the ability to be flexible, support other team members and to draw on the strengths of other individuals.

IT

Proficient in the use of all micrososft packages. Regularly use IT as a research and information tool. Have gained a good understanding of creating and working with databases as well as creating and designing websites. Have knowledge of programming languages such as PHP, Html, CSS, and JavaScript as these were used very much during my course at the university. I have also knowledge in using frameworks which is an advantage.
